

Community Conversation

THE GREEK IMMIGRANT EXPERIENCE: THEN AND NOW

Join the discussion and share your ideas and experiences.

There is a widely held perspective that Greek-Canadians will face challenges as an ethnic group in the near future, in their educational and community issues in particular, concerns over identity, 'Greekness' and Greek language acquisition. The talk will briefly discuss the achievements and challenges of Greek-Canadians, their difficulties and accomplishments since the early 20th century, as well as the issue of Greek history education (including the history of Greeks in Canada). The conversation will invite key stakeholders in the Greek Community (president or vice-president), City of Toronto councilor Frangedaki, the education officer of the Greek Community and the broad public to participate in the discussion.

Date: March 19, 2017

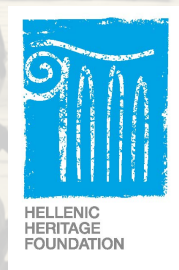

Time: 3:00 - 5:00 PM

Location: Pan Arcadian Federation of Canada House, 450 Danforth Avenue

A. Sakis Gekas Professor, York
University (Department of History)

Everyone is welcome!

If you require further info, please contact gce@yorku.ca

liberal arts & professional studies

